*Best of the Rest is songs that never made my HOT20 Music Chart, didn't have enough points for the HOT100, or songs that were recently released but I personally discovered this year.

THANK YOU so much for checking out my HOT100 of 2010! Please remember this chart is calculated based on MY personal opinion of the songs and is not directly related to national chart position or radio airplay. I really hope you enjoyed my weekly song charts and I really hope I gave you a lot of new music this year. I look forward to an even better year of music in 2011!

The points this year weren't nearly as impressive as last year's scores, but I think it's because during June and July there were so many awesome songs that songs couldn't be on the chart as long or maintain a decent peak number to gain points.
